Town Sanitation Receives Council's Attention

One Building Condemned;
Condition of Restaurants
Discussed; Police Reports
Read

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening. Present Mayor Antrobus, Councilors Abousafy, Cox, Dutil, Jenkins, Lowe and Ramsay. Mike Watrcan was present to represent three West Coleman cow owners. It appears the cattle are placed outside the town limits to graze but some young men are herding them back into town where they are being mowed. He asked police protection. There is a by-law that states cows are not to be kept within the town limits. Mr. Watrcan was asked to take his complaint to the RC MP.

Clarence Clarke was present to protest against the non-removal of ashes. He, ashman Archie Fraser and council debated over the matter for some time before a decision was reached.

H. Houghton and M. Joyce were present to represent the Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion. They asked that a proper agreement be drafted between council and the Legion club regarding the proposed bowling alleys which are to be built in the Memorial Park. Two councilors, two Legion members and town solicitor Bannan will draft the agreement.

Councilors Abousafy and Dutil were appointed to interview National Selective Service officer Francis J. Lott, regarding the payment of unemployment insurance in regard to town employees. The municipal convention will be held at Calgary on Thursday and Friday, June 29 and 30. Any councillor wishing to attend the convention is at liberty to do so.

Police Chief Antie submitted a report on sanitation nearby Nez Perce creek. He strongly condemned the Sam Lee laundry and asked council to condemn it. The cesspools from this lot were seeping into the creek and creating a sickening smell.

Residents on either side of the creek near the Sam Lee residence were also said to be guilty of dumping water and other refuse in the creek. Seepage from the cesspool from the house now owned by S. Janostak and formerly owned by Mr. Cyr, was said to be running into the creek and creating a bad smell.

Council will have personal letters sent to all guilty parties. As regards the Sam Lee residence the owner will be advised that the house has been condemned as a laundry and that he will be given thirty days to have it cleaned up. Failure to do so will result in its being condemned as a place of residence.

Cracked dishes in some local restaurants were also discussed. It was stated that it was most unsanitary to serve customers beverages or meals in broken dishes. Councilor Dutil stated that one cafe had an order for dishes placed four months ago and so far they had not been received.

The medical health officer will be asked to give a report on sanitation throughout the town.

The police report revealed several persons had been fined for various infractions of the law. The request of Geo. McMullen to build a bicycle stand in front of his main street premises was not granted.

Discussions arose on the removal of the night operator at the local C.P.R. depot. Mayor Antrobus reported on his activities to try to maintain a night operator here. Council was of the opinion that a night operator in Coleman was a necessity and a letter will be sent Supt. Lamb, at Lethbridge, stating the council's views on the matter.

Joe Cherry, of West Coleman, complained of the unsanitary condition of the alley at the rear of his home. Constable Antie will inspect the alley.

Coleman Hotel will be requested to lay a concrete floor and place a cover on the ash bin at the rear of the premises. Complaints have been received regarding the smell from this bin.

Following conclusion of the business Mayor Antrobus informed

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Parents whose children will be of school age next fall are asked to register with Miss Graham at Central school on Friday, June 23 or 30. Pupils must be six years old on or before Oct. 1, 1944. Evidence of age should be submitted.

Provincial Election Likely In August

Returning Officer and Staffs Already Appointed for This Constituency; Duke Expected to be Re-Nominated by Social Credit to Contest Crows' Nest-Pincher Creek Constituency.

During the week key men in the Social Credit organization in the Crows' Nest-Pincher Creek constituency have been busy appointing deputy returning officers, enumerators, poll clerks, etc., and it appears a safe bet that from this activity a provincial election is about to be held.

The Journal has been advised that Jack Dudley, of Hillcrest, has been appointed returning officer. The month of August is said to be the election month, with August 22 as the probable date.

The Social Credit nominating convention will be held July 29 at Lundbreck, at which time party supporters will select their man to contest the Crows' Nest-Pincher Creek constituency. E. O. Duke, present member, is still well liked by his party supporters and at this moment he appears most likely to secure the nomination without a great deal of opposition, if any. Mr. Duke is spending a few weeks vacation at Victoria at the present time.

LEGION PICNIC

The Legion picnic will be held on Sunday, July 2, on the east end of the sports field. Members and their families, also wives, mothers and children of men overseas are invited to attend. Parade will assemble at the Legion hall at 1 p.m. and proceed to the grounds, where a good program of entertainment will be carried out. Bring along your own tea, coffee and picnic basket. Hot water will be provided. All children in the parade will be given tickets for refreshments. The parade will be led by No. 73 Summit Squadron air cadets bugle band and air cadets.

SQDN. LEADER FOSS BOULTON EXPECTED HOME THIS WEEK END

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boulton expect the arrival of their son, Squadron Leader Foss Boulton here at the week end. They are still not sure of the day and hour of his arrival.

Foss was in Ottawa the early part of this week and planned on visiting friends in Toronto before coming west.

REBEKAHS HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

On Sunday afternoon members of the Victoria Rebekah lodge met at the union cemetery where they held a memorial service, flowers being placed on departed members graves. Noble Grand A. Vincent, Acting Chaplain M. Yates, Acting J. P. G. Cox and Acting Vice Grand G. Nelson conducted the service.

Deputy Mayor Wilfrid Dutil that he would be on vacation during the next two weeks. Deputy Mayor Dutil assured His Worship that he would give all complaints a sympathetic hearing during the next two weeks. Councilors Cox, Lowe and Ramsay also stated that at the week-end they would set out for the Pacific coast where upon it was agreed that no council meeting would be held during the next four weeks.

Council Endorses Proposal To Construct Pass Hospital; Building And Equipment Estimated $200,000

Are Prepared to Meet With Interesting Bodies to Discuss
Proposal in Detail; Dr. Maxwell May Speak on Proposal in All Pass Towns.

At the regular council meeting on Monday evening the following letter was received from Enoch Williams, secretary pro tem, for the proposed new hospital which would serve the Crows' Nest Pass towns.

The letter reads:
Blainmore, Alberta,
June 15th, 1944.

Mayor and Council,
Town of Coleman.
Greeting.

The intent of this letter to your Council is to solicit your support and co-operation on the matter of establishing in the Alberta section of the Crows' Nest Pass a central hospital, one that will meet the needs of all people in this area. It is a positive fact that considering our population, and the nature of our industries, we have the worst hospitalization arrangements anywhere in the province, and I feel sure you will agree that the past years have been outstandingly inadequate in this direction. The future of the "crows" looks favourable to years of operations of our chief industry (coal mining) and because we have "got along" in a manner for years is no criterion that we should not, now, have more accommodations for our sick and injured.

A committee composed of the secretaries of the Miners' Unions, Mack Stigler, Coleman; Jack Dugdale, Bellevue, and E. Williams, Blainmore, were instructed by their respective locals to gather information pertaining to the establishment of a Central Hospital for the Crows' Nest Pass. We have been in communication with the Alberta Department of Health, Doctors Boe, Sonerville and Maxwell, of the department; have scrutinized the Municipal Hospital Act and hospital regulations; have also considered location; which we believe will meet with the approval of all citizens of the area, it being central and accessible, the site selected is on the main highway opposite McLaren Mills and south-west of Oliver's dairies, between Coleman and Blainmore; consideration has been given to drainage and sewerage facilities, domestic water and power. It is the intention to suggest an eighty to one hundred bed hospital, including maternity ward, treatment section and nurses' dormitory.

Before petition to the Minister of Health for establishment of a hospital district, it will be necessary to have the proposal adopted by the municipalities of Coleman, Frank and Blainmore, and endorsed by the Department of Municipalities with respect to the area of Local Improvement District No. 71. After advertising for 11 days, the plan would then be submitted to the ratepayers, a majority of 65 per cent of those voting would be required to carry the plan. There is in the proposed district property to the assessed value of $4,517,007 and a population of approximately 9,000. Expenditure for building and equipment will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000; upkeep and operation around $12,000 dollars yearly, and would require about 6 mills inside the incorporated areas and 5.7 mills for the Local Improvement District. This is calculated to take care of necessary debentures, 20 years at 4 1/2 per cent. Assurance is given by the Department, from past experience, that there would be no difficulty in securing priority of materials, and if started at once should be completed by one year.

It is the intention to immediately

BROTHERS MEET IN LONDON

Frank and Tony Coccioloni met each other for the first time in four years in London recently shortly after Tony arrived overseas. Frank has been overseas for the past four years, having enlisted in the active army shortly after outbreak of war. Tony had the experience of taking part in the sinking of the Schernhorst in the North Sea, his ship HMS Belfast taking part in the battle.

HIT THE JACK POT

In a letter to his parents, Pte. Leonard Hoyle on active service in Italy, tells of receiving 4,000 cigarettes in the same mail. Leonard has had bad luck from the start in receiving cigarettes sent by his parents and the Cigarette Fund but this time he appears to have hit the jack-pot.

Evening Group Canadian Red Cross Reports on Activities

The Evening group of the Coleman branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, usually holds its meetings in the council chamber, but on the night of June 23, the members gathered at the home of Mrs. H. H. Gardiner, where the evening was spent in sewing.

Although several meetings had to be cancelled during the year the following work was completed:

13 quilts quilted; 97 Bandages Rolled, 3 prs. pyjamas, 7 prs. sheets, 5 shirts, 1 quilt tied, 10 Triangular bandages hemmed, 9 prs. pillow cases, 10 prs. panties, 2 nightgowns, in addition to work done in making buttonholes, cutting and sewing and completing quilt tops.

GRAENE HOWARTH WINNER OF GOLD MEDAL

Relatives here have been advised that Graene Howarth has won the gold medal for the highest marks gained in a recent graduating wireless class at Montreal, in the RCAE.

Mr. Howarth was instructor in general shop work at the local high school from October, 1942, to June 1943, at which time he enlisted in the RCAE.

He has now been posted to Calgary where he will be wireless instructor at No. 2 Wireless school. Mrs. Howarth and children, who have been the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. H. Dunlop, left this week to join Mr. Howarth and take up residence in the city.

LIONS HOLD LADIES' NIGHT MONDAY AT THE LAKE

Close to fifty Lions and their wives motored out to Alex. Moroney's dance pavilion on Monday evening, where a social evening was enjoyed to close the regular meeting season. A summer recess will be enjoyed before meetings are resumed in the fall.

PROMOTED

Sub-Lieutenant Wilfred Hoyle has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant according to recent word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hoyle.

HON. JOHN BRACKEN MAY VISIT PASS TOWNS

In order to become acquainted with voters in the Crows Nest Pass and to explain the policies of the Progressive-Conservative party towards the coal mining industry and the national fuel policy, Stanley Wyatt, Bracken candidate, plans to spend a few days in the Pass towns, and a meeting of active supporters will be arranged as early as possible.

Efforts are being made to arrange a mass meeting to be addressed by John Bracken, and while in the Pass Mr. Wyatt will discuss this with party supporters.

Mr. Wyatt will be accompanied for a meeting here by Mayor G. Rider Davis of Macleod and Norman J. Grier, members of the executive of Macleod Federal Constituency Progressive-Conservative Association.

Presentation Of First Aid Awards

Annual Banquet and Presentation Held on Friday
Evening; Corinne Fraser, Oren
Dwyer and Stuart Murdoch
Lead Their Respective Classes

The annual banquet and presentation of awards was held by the St. John Ambulance Association, Coleman branch, on Friday evening, J. J. McIntyre presiding.

In his opening remarks Chairman McIntyre paid tribute to the fine work rendered by the First Aid instructors, who, he stated, asked for no other reward than the success of their students. To the students he congratulated them for their interest in First Aid and in the giving of their time in attending lectures and taking part in the work.

He had been an official at International mine for nine years and not once during that time had he any reason to fret over the first aid treatment given an injured workman. To have so many capable first aid men in the mine lightened his responsibility considerably.

Tribute was paid Miss Anne Yuill by the chairman who touched upon the honor bestowed her during the week by the Canadian Red Cross. Miss Yuill, he remarked, had been worthy of the honor. The St. John Ambulance too paid her tribute for her fine work in First Aid. The gathering then rose, and with Miss Hillary at the piano, sang "She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

President Archie McCulloch read his report which revealed that during the past fifteen years he had been vice-president and then president of the local branch. Secretary John Rushton had held that office for the past twenty years. This year there had been only 41 students, 60 men and 10 women who had been trained in First Aid in Coleman were now in the armed services.

Leslie McDonald stated that Coleman had always been recognized as the leading First Aid town of the Pass. As a mine official he stated that he had a number of first aid men in the mine capable of giving immediate attention to injured workmen and he was most appreciative of this aid.

J. O. C. McDonald was called upon to present the awards to the successful students. Miss Corinne Fraser was the winner of the George Kellock Memorial shield having gained 116 out of a possible 120 points. In this class only one point distinguished the winner from other three students.

Oren Dwyer won the first prize in the senior certificate class with 112 points out of 120. He was presented with a small award along with his certificate.

Stuart Murdoch won first place in the voucher class with 110 out of 120. He had won the first prize in the certificate class last year, he also was given a small gift in addition to his voucher.

Another honor was given secretary John Rushton to mark the occasion of his twenty years service when a framed "Commandary Vote of Thanks" was received from The Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem.

The musical end of the program was most enjoyable as first Miss Betty Hillary and then Miss Yuill took charge of the piano.

Ladies Class Certificates: Corinne Fraser, Shirley Hulbert, Louise Abousafy, Josephine Hillary, Christine Bubniak.

Labels: Myrtle Johnston, Miss A. Yuill.

Men's Certificate: J. Kovack, T. Kryczka, G. D'Appollonia, O. Dwyer, J. Hollowink, J. McIntyre, A. Sekella.

Medals: G. Jenkins. Labels: Myrtle Johnston, A. McCulloch, G. Clark, J. M. Rushton, (Continued on Page 4)

An Expanding Power

"CANADA IS NO LONGER a small nation, she is a great power, and that has come about not by any political manoeuvring, but by the sheer weight of her war effort." This statement was made by the Governor General, the Earl of Athlone, in an address delivered in Regina, during his recent visit to the West. His Excellency also expressed the hope that Canada's role in the restoration of peace would be "equally sincere, equally substantial, and equally effective." This was a fine tribute to Canada's part in the winning of the war, and one which has been widely appreciated. It is generally agreed that participation in the war has brought the people of Canada to a fuller realization of their abilities and of their importance as a nation, and it is to be hoped that none of this national consciousness will be lost when peace is restored.

Many Supplies Sent Overseas

Canada's part in the landing of the Allied armies of liberation has been proof of her growing strength, and great credit has been given to all branches of the service which played such an important and effective role in that great undertaking. Manpower, however, was not Canada's only contribution, for according to recent information given out by Hon. James MacKinnon, Trade Minister, an "all out" effort was made to send food and fighting equipment to Britain before the invasion commenced. During the month of May, $140,249,000 worth of goods was exported to the United Kingdom. In the same month, $19,864,000 worth of foodstuffs and military supplies was sent to Italy for the great drive which resulted in the capture of Rome and the rout of the Nazis from that area.

Increase In All Exports

Motorized equipment, locomotives, ammunition, many types of guns, aircraft parts and textiles were among the many articles shipped from Canada for the great Allied offensive in Europe. Large quantities of food were also sent during the month before the invasion began. Wheat shipments during this period were valued at $45,100,000, as compared to $25,400,000 in May 1943. Flour shipments reached the total of $10,300,000; oats, $12,100,000; bacon, $21,900,000; fresh beef, $2,600,000; and dried eggs, $2,500,000. All these figures show a very substantial increase over shipments in the same month of the previous year, and demonstrate that Canada has indeed provided much material support for the armed forces. We must continue this effort not only in winning the war, but in solving the many problems which will arise in the years to come.

A Busy Life

The Time Of This Weekly Newspaper Editor Appears To Be Fully Occupied

Should you have a notion that the life of a country editor is a cushy one, listen to the lament of one weekly newspaper editor at Viking, Alberta. He writes:

"This week the publisher of this paper is linotype operator, machinist, pressman, adman, jobman, stenographer bookkeeper and reporter. We are also process issuer, keeper of the records for the income tax branch, the unemployment insurance branch, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the Malta air cadet squadron, and publicity chairman for the Sixth Victory Loan. We attend meetings of the hospital board, sing in the choir, and in our spare time we listen to the tough time the other guys are having." Maclean's Magazine.

Blitz Technique On Garden Seeds

Experienced gardeners say that it is very important to destroy weeds when they are small to prevent them from using up the moisture and plant food that should be going to the young and growing vegetables.

Hoing during a bright summer day may not be very comfortable, but it's the right kind of weather for establishing a headstart for further attacks. The enemies of the seedlings in the garden can be held in check and systematically exterminated with a flick of the wrist if they dare show their heads. Those which are strong enough to resist hoeing manoeuvres should be destroyed before their seeds have had a chance to turn into reinforcements.

Night Fighter Technique

Cause Of Failure To Interfere With Invasion Preparations

The complete failure of the recent German raids, which attempted to destroy invasion preparations is no mystery. The Air Ministry foresaw long ago that invasion dumps and troop concentrations would make tempting targets, and so set about their preparations accordingly. The cause of the Luftwaffe's failure is the development of the R.A.F. night fighter technique.

VERSATILE TROOPS

When men and women join the British forces they are taught not only how to handle their particular weapons, how to drive a tank or pilot a plane, repair a balloon or man a boat. They can also learn a trade or profession while they train to fight.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I live alone and find a pound of coffee is too much to buy at one time. Is there any way I can buy half a pound, give my grocer one coupon, and buy the other half-pound later on?

A.—No, ration coupons are required each time you buy rationed foods. However, you can always buy half a pound of coffee and 2 oz. of tea with one tea-coffee coupon.

Q.—My son recently came home on ten days' leave. He brought a ration card with him, but my grocer refused to accept the coupons in it. Can he do this?

A.—Yes he can, if you presented loose coupons. All coupons, to be acceptable, must be attached to a ration book or ration card.

Q.—My grocer will not accept tea coupons which I still have in my No. 3 book. Is he correct?

A.—No, he is quite wrong. All tea-coffee coupons in your No. 3 book are still good for the purchase of tea or coffee. They will remain valid until an expiry date is announced.

Q.—Are the prices of strawberries and raspberries controlled?

A.—Yes, price ceilings for Canadian-grown strawberries and raspberries were set on May 29 and remain controlled until September 30. Canada is divided into three zones, and Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are included in zone three. Prices for quarts and pints are less after June 17 than they were for the period May 29 to June 17, when the berries were not as plentiful. Imported berries are also placed under the same ceiling as Canadian-grown berries for the period June 5 to September 30.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices) mentioning the name of the paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Jap News Unreliable

Soldiers' Relatives Warned Against Messages That Are Not Official

In announcing the Government was forwarding to relatives any apparently genuine message coming from Canadian prisoners in Japanese hands, the Wartime Information Board warned against placing too much credence in Japanese broadcasts.

A W.I.B. statement added: "Such messages may be released by the enemy for some propaganda purpose and their reliability is, therefore, always questionable."

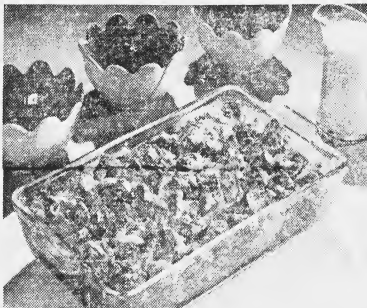

"Sometimes recordings are made of prisoners' voices, but these may be delayed for some considerable time before being released by the enemy. In addition, eaves have been reported of unscrupulous persons who listened to broadcasts from Japan, then write the next of kin mentioned and offer for a consideration to send them the message that has been sent out."

"Other people with no ulterior motive, frequently write next of kin to tell them of messages picked up. This is unnecessary, as the official handling of such messages is very thorough and next of kin are informed of all apparently reliable messages that come through, as well as of all other information concerning their prisoner relatives."

"The United States Government has set up a similar organization with respect to American prisoners in Japanese hands."

Rhubarb Crisp Pudding

Right now the rhubarb is at its best and most of us are looking for different ways to serve it. We all like rhubarb pie and many of us are satisfied with just stewed rhubarb. But for variety, and a recipe worth keeping on tap for the rhubarb season every year try this rhubarb crisp pudding. This recipe deals gently with your precious sugar supply too.

1 1/2 cups shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/2 cups toasted bread cubes
2 cups All-Wheat
4 cups diced fresh rhubarb
1/2 cup honey
1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly, add eggs and beat well. Add nutmeg and flavoring. Stir in bread cubes and cereal.

Put rhubarb in greased baking pan; drizzle honey over rhubarb. Cover with All-Wheat. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 35-40 minutes or until rhubarb is done. Serve warm with cream.

Yield: 6 - 8 servings (10 x 6-inch baking pan).

Variation: Omit nutmeg and vanilla extract, use two teaspoons grated orange rind instead.

The Next War

Germany Making Plans Even Now For Another Attempt At World Domination

Whenever one hears, and it will be heard, talk of an honorable peace for Germany, the past should be remembered above all things, and safeguards taken. The London Bureau of the Ottawa Journal reports that there is good evidence that the Germans are actually now thinking of and planning how to wage the next war. A significant fact in corroboration of this mentality and outlook is that German scientists have carefully studied the effects of the bombardment of Berlin and other German cities, and are devising ways and means whereby these places may be rebuilt on bombproof lines.

Berlin has announced that at the end of this war all German cities will be constructed of fireproof materials. Every roof is to have its swimming pool, for use in peacetime for exercise and recreation, but in wartime as a reserve of water to deal with incendiary attacks by air.

It is not only the houses which will be constructed of steel and reinforced concrete, and even the household furniture will be fireproof. This is proof, if indeed proof were needed, that the Germans, realizing that they cannot win the present war, are looking ahead to waging yet another and better one.

Those people who refuse to believe in the inherent belligerency of the modern Hun will find it hard to reconcile these facts with their persistent and sentimental incredulity. Nothing could be more certain than that, if we wish to avoid a third Great War Germany, after the present one, must be effectively and permanently demilitarized, not only professionally but industrially.

Hitler once boasted of Russia having been laid low for one thousand years to come. It is just something like that which should be the portion of Germany—St. Catharines Standard.

Hair Splitting

Human Hair Is Used In Making Cloth In Hungary

Wartime necessities in Hungary have developed a process whereby human hair is combined with rayon and hemp fiber in producing fabrics. Press reports indicate that during the past three years 600 meters of cloth for men's suits have been manufactured, as well as 2,500 blankets, 2,500 sweaters and 1,000 pairs of stockings. The durability and cheapness of this type of cloth will ensure its use after the war, it is claimed.

HOW IT IS DONE

"Dr. Hans Tschel died at the age of 73, in Kiel. His name will always be remembered in connection with the building of German submarines. Even when the inglorious end of the last war put a sudden stop to German U-boat construction, Tschel managed to go abroad where he continued to design submarines. Thus he was able to develop his plans in undisturbed quietude, and in this way he was partly responsible for making available to Germany in 1935 mature and modern U-boat designs."—Der Neue Tag, Prague.

"Gentle way to stop constipation"

"Believe me, you should try ALL-BRAN for constipation — if it has the same cause mine had. For nothing I tried keeps me so regular, so gently."

"I have no constipation—no nasty harsh purgatives. Here's all you do—if your constipation is due to lack of 'bulk' in the diet. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, and drink plenty of water. This nutritious cereal helps to produce smooth-working 'bulk', and prepares wastes for easy elimination. You'll like the happy relief so much you'll want to stay regular. Eat tasty, tasty ALL-BRAN daily. Grocers have it in handy sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada."

SMILE AWHILE

"Waiter, this is a miserably small steak."

"Yes, sir, but you'll find it will take you a long time to eat it."

"It's an ideal match."

"What makes you think that?"

"Well, he has money and she knows how to spend it."

"I see you raise hogs down here most exclusively. Do they pay better than corn and potatoes?"

"Wal, they don't shuck, but hogs don't need no hocks."

"This man is annoying me, constable."

"But he isn't even looking at you."

"That's what's annoying me."

Mr. Softy: "This is my photograph, with my two French poodles. You recognize me?"

Miss Cane: "I think so. You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"

Mrs. Jabber: "My husband certainly does enjoy smoking in his den. Does your husband have a den?"

Mrs. Gabby: "No, he grows all over the house."

Employer: "My boy, I started out of college with the theory that the world had an opening for me."

Office Boy: "And you found it, sir?"

Employee: "I did. In fact, I'm in the hole right now."

"Ah but yuh was relieved when yuh found it wasn't a spook foler, yuh hah last night!" said Sam.

"Ah was so relieved," replied Rastus, "that ah slowed down to a gallop."

"Yes, I sometimes go to the doctor. Doctors have to live, you know. And afterwards I go to the druggist with the doctor's prescription. Druggists have to live, too. When I get home I pour the medicine down the sink."

"Why?"

"Well, I have to live, too."

Some Yanks in Italy were standing on the edge of Mt. Vesuvius looking at the molten lava. One of them remarked to his companion:

"Looks hot as Hades."

An Englishman near by remarked to his companion: "These Americans have been everywhere."

A lawyer, being interrupted, said: "I will speak, sir, as long as I please."

"You have spoken longer than you please," was the opponent's retort.

D-Day Brings Three B.C. Friends Together

It took the world's greatest sea-borne invasion to bring these three British Columbia friends together. Before the war they worked in the same factory in Trail, B.C. Gunner Alex Williamson of a Canadian artillery regiment, right, was hit in the arm by a sniper's bullet before his assault-carrier reached the French beachhead. Brought off again, he was transferred to the Royal Canadian Navy destroyer, H.M.C.S. Algonquin, which was joining in the bombardment of the beach. After the battle had died away, Williamson was visited in sick bay by his two friends from Trail. They are, left, Engineer Artificer John Dawson, of Kimberley, B.C., and Stoker George Foster, of Nelson, B.C. The picture, taken on D-Day, just off the French coast was down to Canada by bomber.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

COMFORT

There is much satisfaction in work well done; praise is sweet, but there can be no happiness equal to the joy of finding a heart that understands.—Victor Robinson.

The disposition to give a cup of cold water to a disciple, is a far nobler property than the finest intellect.—Howells.

A deserved and discriminating compliment is often one of the strongest encouragements and incentives to the diffident and self-distrustful.—Tryon Edwards.

God often comforts us, not by changing the circumstances of our lives, but by changing our attitude toward them.—S. H. B. Masterman.

Whatever things were written sometime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.—Romans 15:4.

Father, we thank Thee that Thy light and Thy love reach earth, open the prison to them that are bound, console the innocent, and throw wide the gates of heaven.—Mary Baker Eddy.

JAPANESE HAVE SUFFERED EXTREMELY HEAVY LOSSES IN DEFENCE OF THE MARIANAS

PEARL HARBOR. Japan's defence of the Marianas and Bonins has cost the Japanese 747 planes destroyed, 30 ships sunk, 51 damaged and two probably sunk and 13 barges destroyed, it was announced.

A communique from Pacific fleet headquarters revised losses inflicted on the enemy in the two weeks June 10 to 23.

It added 109 planes shot down, three ships damaged, a light carrier, a heavy cruiser and a light cruiser, and transferred a tanker previously reported sunk to the damaged list.

At the same time headquarters said American plane losses from a carrier force which sank or damaged nearly a score of Japanese ships June 19 was increased to 95 but only 22 pilots and 27 air crewmen were lost.

On Saipan island troops advanced 500 to 600 yards on the western flank and in an attack on entrenched Japanese on Mt. Tapochau, the communique said.

Strong enemy opposition continued. The bulk of the original 20,000 or more enemy defenders remain in the sector beginning around Mt. Tapochau and extending northward.

U.S. Navy Has Gained Control Of Pacific Area

WASHINGTON. — Possibly a score of the newest and biggest United States aircraft carriers are assigned to task force 58, declared by the navy to be history's "most powerful and destructive naval unit."

Rear Admiral Arthur W. Radford, acting deputy chief of naval operations for air, in a broadcast describing the giant force which routed the Japanese east of the Philippines, said "We can safely assume that most of the 22 big carriers commissioned since Pearl Harbor have been operating as part of the vast task force."

The navy announcement said that in addition to carriers, the force was made up of battleships, cruisers and destroyers. It has been given "the entire Pacific ocean to the gates of Japan as its stamping ground."

The navy's statement said a Japanese pilot saw the force "scattered over the sea as far as his eyes could peer" and, when captured shortly thereafter, reported that "one look at task force 58 convinced him that Japan had lost the war."

More than 1,000 planes can be launched from the 1,250,000 square feet of aircraft carrier decks in the force.

"With Super Fortresses striking from the west and task force 58 from the east, the once impregnable Japanese homeland has at last come within range of strategic bombing forces," the navy said.

Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, 57-year-old flier, is commanding officer of the force, which is attached to the 5th fleet in the Pacific under command of Admiral Raymond A. Spruance.

DEFEAT OF NAZIS

Might Come By November Opinion Of Australian Newspaper Man

MONTREAL. Sir Keith Murdoch, head of the Melbourne Herald said in an interview here that he believed the odds were in favor of the European war ending by November but predicted it would take another two years to whip Japan.

Sir Keith left for New York en route to Australia after an eight-week tour of battlefronts in Italy, India and North Africa and a visit to Britain.

He had high praise for the Canadian forces whom he saw in action in Italy, and in final preparations for the invasion of Europe.

"Canada's part in the Italian campaign has been simply magnificent," he said. "Without the fighting ability of the Canadian forces, particularly in Italy, that battle could never have been the success it has been. Your men did a grand job there—something to be proud of."

TO BE DISCUSSED

Post-War Reconstruction On Program For Coming Conference

OTTAWA.—Some phases of post-war reconstruction will be discussed at the Forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said in the commons.

Answering Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, Mr. King said he did not know when the conference would be held, but he hoped that it would be held under circumstances which would permit all the provinces to attend.

Mr. King said he was not sure whether it would be advisable to wait until after the session to hold the conference.

"On the other hand, if parliament is going to continue in session until December 1 I think we ought to have the conference some considerable time before that," he said.

MAY NEED TERRITORY

NEW YORK. — Foreign Minister Beelo van Kleffens of the Netherlands suggests in the July issue of Foreign Affairs that if the Germans continue defensive flooding of Holland she may need a grant of German territory for survival after the war. The foreign minister said 45 per cent of the Netherlands was subject to flooding.

SAWFLY MENACE

Flights Of Pests Have Started In Southern Alberta

LETHBRIDGE.—Wheat stem sawfly, the No. 1 insect pest of prairie farmers—has started laying potential damage to millions of acres of wheat in the plains area, Dominion government entomologists here reported.

Flights of the pest have started in southern Alberta and southern Saskatchewan and are steadily becoming heavier and more general. Cool and damp weather has retarded sawfly flights considerably since the flies started to emerge less than two weeks ago but entomologists explain a few days of hot weather would give rise to exceptionally heavy flights.

During the flight period expected to last until about July 10, sawflies lay their eggs in wheat stems.

Comparatively heavy flights have been reported during the past few days in the Carmanagay and Chin districts in southwestern Alberta.

PLANS CANCELLED

Former Luxury Liner Normandie Will Not Be Rebuilt Now

NEW YORK. Shortages of manpower and critical materials have caused cancellation of plans to rebuild the U.S.S. Lafayette, formerly the luxury liner Normandie, which burned and sank at her pier in February, 1942. The U.S. navy department announced.

After the giant ship, refitted for use as a troop transport had been raised at a cost of $3,750,000, her hull was repaired and she was taken to the Todd shipyards in Brooklyn.

Future plans for reconstructing the ship have not been announced by the navy, which said that manpower and materials which could have been used to refit the Lafayette have been diverted to more urgent needs.

GERMAN LOSSES

7,800,000 Killed And Captured On The Russian Front

LONDON.—The Soviet information bureau, in a review on the third anniversary of the German attack on Russia, reported more than 7,800,000 Germans have been killed and captured in the three years of fighting.

During that same period, said the review, broadcast from Moscow and recorded in London by the Soviet monitor, Russian losses totalled 5,300,000 men, killed, missing or captured.

MEDAL FOR LEADERSHIP

NEW YORK. Premier Stalin received a medal from the presidium of the supreme council of the U.S.S.R. for his "leadership of the heroic defence of Moscow and for the organization of the rout of German troops near Moscow" in the winter of 1941, a Tass dispatch, broadcast over the Moscow radio said.

MYSTERIES OF INFLATION WERE THOROUGHLY DISCUSSED BY COMMONS BANKING COMMITTEE

OTTAWA.—The commons banking committee delved deep into the mysteries of inflation, with J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit house leader, questioning Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada.

Mr. Towers replied that the issue of money without proper checks would lead to trouble due to inflation. It was not necessary that $1 in money be issued for every $1 of goods and services required. Money can be used over and over again and the velocity of circulation is an important factor.

The onus should be on the advocates of monetary expansion to show that good results would follow proposals they made.

There might be a time when it would be inexpedient for a government to finance by borrowing and taxation. If the circumstances justified, he would be prepared to support monetary expansion within limits as the best tool available at the time.

The issue of "debt-free money" had been suggested as causing less cost to a government, said Mr. Towers. But the reduced cost to the government would have to be borne by the public generally.

A fair system of taxation was the best system to be used in financing in most instances. Kept within moderate limits, money-tary expansion had not caused serious trouble.

Mr. Blackmore said that the more highly industrialized Canada became the more easily the issue of new money could be absorbed.

Mr. Towers replied that the circumstances had to be known before it could be judged what money expansion was warranted.

Answering Mr. Blackmore, Mr. Towers said he believed Canada could do much to protect herself against the inflation of prices in other countries, but the task would be particularly difficult if there were peacetime inflation in the United States and some effects would be felt.

"If the business of a country is expanding and the volume of production is going up," Mr. Towers said, "one can well imagine the new issue of money being perhaps five per cent a year without any harm being done."

"We must have money in the hands of the people to meet increased production," said Mr. Blackmore.

R. T. Graham (L-Swift Current) said he did not think the issue of currency would help if Canada had a wheat surplus and no outside markets. It could not assist the consumption of wheat.

Mr. Towers agreed. Mr. Blackmore said the objective would be to trade wheat for oranges or other goods the Canadian people require.

CANADIAN TANK REGIMENTS WERE A BIG FACTOR IN THE BATTLE FOR THE BEACHHEAD

WITH CANADIAN TANKS IN FRANCE. — From the beaches at Courseulles and Bernieres to the Caen Bayeux highway 10 and 12 their way into Courseulles where they helped to clear the town.

Overcoming elaborate mine fields, they broke into open country behind Courseulles with the western brigade running alongside them or riding on the turrets and hulls. One column struck southwest to Banville and on to Colomiere Sur Seules, four miles inland, and another rode into Revers three miles south.

Snipers hiding in the wheat fields and in woods and buildings pattered away at them and several batteries of German 88's tried to hold them.

But they took them on, one by one, with the infantry and as they got farther inland, found some 88's abandoned.

At Bernieres the Fort Garry Horse from Winnipeg landed in the assault but had tough luck because of a terrible sea and did not make the beach until the first infantry was ashore.

But once they got on the beaches they went right to work, striking inland to Talleville to cut the first lateral road along which were strong German gun positions.

The Fort Garrys swung southeast to Douvre and Deliverance and briefly engaged a German strong point there which was not captured until 11 days later when Commandos and assault engineers took it.

By the night of D-Day these tanks reached Angerville, six miles south of the landing beach, and all the way they battled pockets of the enemy manning hidden guns. Anti-tank guns were sighted down every road leading to Caen, and each one meant a skirmish and sometimes took an hour or two to wrinkle out.

Nazis Are Using New Rocket Propelled Anti-Tank Shell

WITH THE BRITISH ADVANCE FORCES IN NORMANDY. — The Germans are using another new weapon on this front but it is not succeeding.

It is a rocket propelled anti-tank shell which can be used by infantry and only one man is needed to fire it. The weapon consists of a tube four feet long with an 88-mm. shell at the nose. Several of these shells have been captured.

USED SUCCESSFULLY

NEW YORK. — One of the new weapons successfully used by the Allies in the European invasion was the spectacular LCR (landing craft, rocket). The LCR is a tank landing craft hull fitted with a series of explosive rocket guns designed to lay waste any given stretch of beach.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

PROVINCIAL ELECTION

It appears that a provincial election is definitely in the offing in August. Election machinery has already been set up in this constituency and that certainly would not be warranted unless an election was about to take place.

The Social Crediters, who naturally should be on the inside rail as regards to when an election will be held, will hold their nomination convention at Lundbreck on July 29. Local enquiry reveals that E. O. Duke, M.L.A., is still very popular with his supporters and it would be a real surprise if anyone should rise in the party to oppose him.

The CCF will naturally try to duplicate their Saskatchewan success in Alberta and it is expected that it will go into high gear with in the next few weeks. Mr. Woback, federal CCF candidate is on a speaking tour of the Pass, but no mention has yet been made of a provincial candidate in this constituency.

The Independents here are very quiet. Their party lacks the high-powered publicity enjoyed by other parties and they suffer as a result. However, they are to be expected to get their organization working soon and a candidate named for this constituency.

We expect a three-cornered fight in Crows' Nest-Pincher Creek.

OUR AIRPORT

Three miles west of Coleman is a long stretch of flat land which citizens refer to in a casual manner as the air field. This "air field" was built when R. B. Bennett was in power and was set up for relief camps throughout the Dominion to take care of the thousands of jobless men and youths. It cost the country $96,000 to build.

To those of us who desire to see Coleman grow in greater stature than she at present enjoys, one of our greatest assets will be this self-same air field. We are entering upon a great era of air transportation, which will touch upon every city and town throughout the Dominion. Blessed be those towns with air fields. Those local groups interested in post-war development should not ignore this asset. It will service this industrial section of Alberta. Feeder planes will rise from it to connect with Trans Canada Airlines at Lethbridge. So great are its possibilities.

Council Endorse

ly organize local meetings where all citizens will have the opportunity to give their viewpoint and discuss the question of a central hospital.

The undersigned would appreciate an early and careful consideration of the proposal, and anticipate a favourable reply from your Council.

Yours sincerely,

E. Williams, Sec. pro tem.

Council discussed the letter at some length, then went on record as endorsing the proposal for a new hospital. Council made it clear in its motion that while endorsing the proposal it did not consider itself bound to support all the details that was contained in Mr. Williams' letter. Such detail, it maintained, would be discussed at later meetings held with interested parties.

Now that Coleman, Blairmore, Frank, Bellvue and Hillcrest have endorsed the proposal, meetings are expected to be held in all Pass towns, which will be addressed by Dr. Maxwell, of the provincial department of health, as well as Pass speakers. Dr. Somerville was in the Pass last week and met Mayor Antrobus and several of his councillors and spoke on the subject of the proposed new hospital.

abilities once conditions come back to normal that it would be foolish for Coleman not to take an interest in the field now.

PROPOSED NEW HOSPITAL

A forward step has been taken by the committee set up to do preliminary work on the proposed new hospital that would service the towns and villages of the Crows' Nest Pass. It would appear that the feeling of the majority of the public is overwhelmingly in favor of the new hospital, that would have eighty to one hundred beds, maternity ward, isolation section and nurses dormitory. It is only a case of agreeing on a location suitable to all, and above all determining how much it will cost the individual in cold cash to maintain the hospital each year.

Coleman council has endorsed the proposal, but ask that all detail in connection with the hospital and its operation and maintenance be discussed over the table. The committee of three that have done the preliminary work up to this point have been wise in their decision to hold public meetings in order that all interested citizens may have a voice in the matter. It is a venture that is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000 and should be given thoughtful consideration by all ratepayers.

SANITATION

Sanitation seems to be very prominent this week in civic affairs. Complaints have been received by the Chief of Police regarding the filthy condition of the Nez Perce creek bed in town. Water is not running at the present time and seepage from cesspools and slops thrown by householders is certainly causing a stench that warrants drastic action from the council. One Chinese laundry has been condemned due to its unsanitary condition and the fact that so many cesspools have been dug in the lot that it is impossible to dig more despite the fact that a new one needs digging, as the old ones are seeping into the creek. Those places without cesspools should be given a time limit in which cesspools could be dug. Slops should be placed in covered receptacles. Flies carry disease and could easily carry it to various parts of the town. Council should give heed to the old proverb "a stitch in time saves nine."

Unemployment

Insurance Contributions

Compensation paid by an employer to an employee, whether as payment in lieu of notice in the case of discharge or as a gratuity in the case of voluntary separation of an employee from his employment, will not in future be regarded as wages or salary in respect of which Unemployment Insurance contributions must be made, according to instructions sent out by the Unemployment Insurance Commission to its field officers across Canada. The instruction follows a ruling of the Department of Justice, which has interpreted the Unemployment Insurance Act to require contributions only in regard to earnings paid in relation to the period of time when a person is actually in employment.

At the same time the Commission has pointed out to its field officers that an employee will be deemed to be employed, for the purposes of the Act, on any day for which remuneration is paid while an employee is on leave, either as a vacation or on account of sickness, where leave is given in pursuance of the contract of employment between employer and employee.

In collecting contributions under the Act field officers are now instructed to observe these interpretations of the law.

New C.P.R. Locomotive Class to be Post-War Model

Engine No. 1200, the first locomotive to be built by the Angus Shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in Montreal to the company's own design since 1931, is pictured above on the trial tracks before being taken over by W. M. Neal, C.B.E., the vice-president, from H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, under whose direction the engine was built and who worked at Angus Shops as an apprentice in 1905, on the classes of locomotives it will replace.

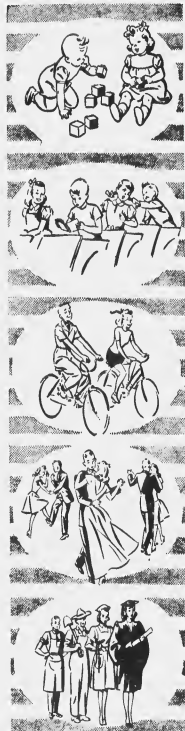

An entirely new class, designed for that part of the company's program for post-war power replacement dealing with more than 600 of the older locomotives, Engine No. 1200 will go to western Canada eventually, while Engine No. 1201 of the same class, due from Angus Shops in June will stay in the P.C.

Responsible for the design of the 1200's was F. A. Bengier, chief mechanical engineer (locomotive) and his staff, while the work at Angus Shops was under the control of H. R. Naylor, works manager there, and the supervision of D. L. Thornton, assistant works manager (locomotive). In the picture with Mr. Neal during his inspection, left to right, are Mr. Thornton, Mr. Naylor, Mr. Bengier, Mr. Bowen and Mr. Neal.

Mr. Neal was particularly interested in the cab, in which he is pictured in the inset, for it was here that 1,600 pounds was lopped off the total weight of the engine by reducing the portion of the cab by overhauling the boiler at the back, and by using aluminum instead of steel in the upper structure. The overall weight reduction was from 8,000 to 10,000 pounds on the 1200's compared to the next nearest class in the C.P.R. power lineup, thereby ensuring the widest running rights over bridges and other restricted trackage.

Material for the construction of the locomotives at Angus Shops was arranged for and work commenced before restrictions upon such material were put into effect. The actual work of building these engines was made to fit in with the general maintenance and munitions program, so as not to interfere in any way with the war effort.

Cigarette Fund Notes

Dear Sirs: I received four cartons of cigs, and wish to thank the people back home that take part in getting these cigs. to us over here. They are the first I have received and was surprised to have four handed to me at once. I have come off a long leave and was lucky enough to meet Allister MacQuarrie and we had a few days together and really enjoyed them.—Tom Flynn.

Dear Sirs: Received your cigs, which came in very handy. Thank you very much.—W. Lei er.

Dear Sirs: I have received the cigarettes safely and wish to thank you very much. Regards to all my friends.—Alfred Jones

Dear Sirs: Received your cigs, the other day and I certainly was pleased to get them. I wish to thank the citizens of Coleman who subscribe to the Cigarette Fund. I am in quite good health and still having it soft instructing. However it certainly is a monotonous job.—Bill Naylor.

Dear Sirs: Thank you most sincerely for the regular package of cigarettes.—J. T. Dunbar.

Dear Sirs: Received Fags O.K. Thanks a million.—Reg. McMullen.

Dear Sirs: Received this carton of cigs, and would like to thank you greatly for them. They certainly are appreciated.—R. Lowe

Dear Sirs: Thanks a million. The cigs, are coming through in great style. Good work.—Bill Anderson.

Dear Friends: Trusting everyone is fine and thanking you for the cigarettes. I certainly appreciate them.—Herman Hirsch.

Dear Sirs: Received cigs. O.K. Thanks a lot.—J. Kroesing.

Dear Sirs: Received parcel of 300 cigarettes yesterday. Thanks very much.—Milan Rucka.

Dear Friends: Your cigarettes are arriving regularly and they are a welcome addition to the limited variety we have in the canteen. I appreciate very much the thoughtfulness of those people who make these gifts possible and wish you continued success in your good work.—Ivor Morgan.

Dear Sirs: Thank you for the cigarettes which I received this week.—J. Panek.

Dear Sirs: I must thank the Canadian Legion for the wonderful consideration for our welfare over here. It makes one stop and wonder just what value an organization such as the Legion really is. I never imagined any one organization could possibly do as much for the great number of men overseas that are so well taken care of by the Legion services. I have stayed at a Canadian Legion Service Club at Cartwright Gardens in London and it is the best accommodation I have ever got in any hotel. So, if I do live through this I shall always remember the many comforts supplied us by the Canadian Legion, and the fact that I am only a stranger to Canadians does not make any difference. Admittedly the Americans and Canadians have the same temperament but I did not think I would ever have anyone remember me as you people have.—Tex Larrimore.

Dear Sirs: Have just received your most welcome parcel. It is greatly appreciated and thanking you a million. I am fine and hope you all are too.—Tony Coccioni.

Dear Sirs: Received your cigarettes. Thanks a lot.—Tony Pietrasko.

Dear Sirs: Once again I want to thank you for Sweet Caps received.—Bill Ferby.

Dear Sirs: Received your smokes O.K. Thanks a million for them.—R. Garrett.

Dear Sirs: Have just received another 300 cigs. and am very grateful for them. Johnny Hastings was here a few weeks ago, and is now up at the front.—Herman Hirsch.

Dear Sirs: Received your ever welcome parcel of Sweet Caps and thanks a million. Things here are much the same. I had the good fortune to get a Journal today, dated March 16, just two months old, but at that it was good reading and I spent most of the evening reading it. Well thanks again for the smokes and keep up the good work.—M. McMullen.

Dear Comrades: I must again extend my hearty thanks to the Legion, and the people of Coleman who make our monthly gift of cigarettes possible. I must say they have always come regularly every month and are indeed a most appreciated gift. We are doing fine here now and intend to be home for Christmas.—L. A. Caroe.

Dear Sirs: Received another parcel of cigs, today and I am very glad that they come every month. Hope that it won't be very long before the Legion will not have to send them any longer.—Pete Smith.

Dear Friends: Received your carton of cigarettes today and send my thanks to all back home. Am still feeling fine and hope to meet up with some of the old gang one of these days soon.—Howard Campbell.

Dear Sirs: Many thanks for the cigarettes. They are greatly appreciated.—R. Lowe.

Dear Friends: Thank you for your March shipment. It was badly delayed but that was due to my landing in Italy. At present I am in hospital and am doing quite well.—Jim Lloyd.

Dear Sirs: Thank you once again for the cigs. Met a few Coleman boys some time ago.—Bill Ferby.

Dear Sirs: Thanks for the parcel of pipe tobacco. Have only missed two parcels in over three years. Hope to be home soon. Many thanks.—W. S. Vollendorf.

Dear Sirs: Once again, my thanks. They were a little delayed but still arrived at an opportune time. Everything is O.K. over here. I sincerely hope Coleman and its people are doing all right.—W. Anderson.

Dear Sirs: Thanks a million for the welcome tobacco.—J. P. McIntyre.

Dear Sirs: It is time I wrote and thanked you for the cigarettes I received a short time ago. They must have piled up somewhere as I am now in the happy possession of 900 Sweet Caps. They are just like a letter from home. I can't get used to the English cigarettes but then who wants to at two and six for twenty. There are a large number of Canadian fellows here with me at present and all you see around the billet are Canadian cigarettes, Kraft cheese, etc. so it seems like home sometimes.

Well thanks again to your club and also to the people who so generously donate every second Saturday.—Tom Brennan.

Soldiers' Letters

Another letter has been received at The Journal office from our world travelling airman, P/O T. Brennan. Tom has been in many interesting places and is now back in England. His letter reads: "Well here I am again in merry (?) old England. I am not writing to raise the roof about not getting any Journals because I know it isn't your fault. Some letters sent me in December, 1943, are just starting to arrive so perhaps the Journals will be along any day now. I haven't read your paper since December with the exception of four John Howarth so kindly sent me. I wrote to you while I was in North Africa. I don't know if you received it or not and then I dropped you a card from Cairo. You should have seen me riding a camel around the Pyramids. Some fun! The only thing I can say for the Sphinx of Geza is that you have to see it for yourself to believe it. Then there is India with its sacred cows, fortune tellers, and curio shops. In Algiers there is the "Casbah". It's supposed to be a very tough and wicked district but we made it O.K. There are numerous other places but now I think I'll have a look at Hitler's fortress Europe. I hope I may be able to see some part of the continent some day soon and then I'll get back to Coleman.

I hope the papers start to arrive but don't worry about it as there is nothing you can do.

Sincerely, Tom Brennan.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

Prevention and treatment of blindness should be made a responsibility of the public-health departments, the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph says editorially, calling attention to the large group of persons in Canada suffering from progressive eye disease who will "sooner or later become a charge on the taxpayer."

The known blind in Canada total 12,344, including only those registered with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and those on pensions for the blind. The total does not include Canadians with progressive eye disease or those who have lost the sight of one eye and do not come within the definition of blindness under the national legislation. There are believed to be some blind persons who have not made their condition known.

Urgent needs at present are prevention and treatment, the Quebec newspaper states. "Health departments are already deeply involved in the prevention of blindness, even though their legislation was not planned primarily for that reason, except in the instance of preventive drops of ophthalmia neonatorum (for prevention of gonorrheal infection at time of birth).

"The other endeavors that are preventive in character are: venereal disease control, the distribution of insulin to those unable to pay, prevention and control of tuberculosis, nutrition measures, control of all medical inspection, the provision of sight-saving classes, and accident prevention.

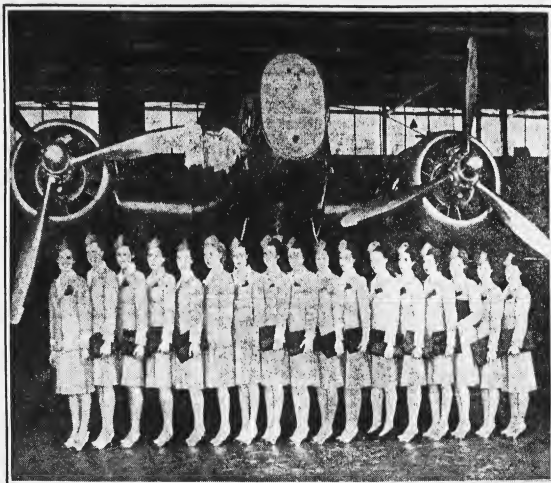

"From the above it would seem desirable to place the whole problem of blindness, both its prevention and cure, in the hands of the department of public health, where it logically belongs."

Mrs. M. Marks of Montreal, Y.M.C.A. club hostess, interviewed a dejected Canadian who had received an unpleasant cable from his wife. Trans-Atlantic investigation revealed the reason. Former Nurses Earn Silver Wings

Wearing silver wings, symbolic of their graduation, 16 young ladies, all under 25, have just completed their studies in the tenth and largest class to graduate from Trans-Canada Air Lines Stewardess Training School.

Chosen from many points in Canada, these former registered nurses have been assigned to their duties. The stewardesses are shown after donning their new summer uniform, of which simplicity is the keynote. This chic ensemble of grey gabardine features a wrist length fitted jacket, with three buttoned front, lending a pleasant line to a six-gored skirt.

A pale blue tailored blouse, a navy blue handkerchief and a silver T.C.A. emblem on the grey felt hat, add a striking note. A navy blue bag, navy blue gloves and navy and white spectator pumps complete the outfit and give the T.C.A. stewardess the feeling that she is one of the best dressed women of the age.

Worked For Weeks

Housewives in Britain Packed Spare Parts for Invasion Equipment

A great number of British housewives gave active assistance in preparing the Allied armies for the invasion. They are grandmothers, young girls, old age pensioners, who worked for weeks packing invasion stores. More than 375,000,000 articles were packed and ready to be shipped whenever any unit of the army needed spare parts for its equipment.

These women working in barns, fire halls, schools or any building, that could accommodate them, had the job of coating each spare with preservative and packing it in a carefully labelled cardboard box.

Lord Davies Dies

Welsh Coal Magnate Was Very Fond Of Canada

Lord Davies, Welsh coal magnate, worker for peace and a pioneer in the fight against tuberculosis, is dead. He was 64, and had suffered cancer of the lung for a considerable time.

The former David Davies, he was created the first Baron Davies in 1932, taking as his title Baron Davies of Llandinam, his birthplace.

Lord Davies had a great fondness for Canada, which he visited on many occasions. When a young man he travelled here extensively and was the only British M.P.H. who ever brought a pack of hounds across the Atlantic to hunt coyotes on the Canadian prairies.

In the summer of 1940 Lady Davies went to Toronto with her four children, remaining until last April when, on account of the serious illness of her husband, she returned to Wales.

Her two sons, Edward and Islwyn, who had been at school in Toronto, previously left for England, one to join the Royal Navy and the other the R.A.F.

A daughter, Mary, joined the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service and went to Britain with a detachment in 1943. With another daughter, Jean, she had studied at a Toronto Ladies' College.

Lord Davies had large estates in both Wales and Scotland. He resided at Plas Danim, Llandinam, where he died.

Not Removed Yet

German U-Boats Are Still A Menace To Our Convoys

The news of the battling it took to get through one of the largest convoys yet sent to Russia is a reminder that, although the U-boat menace has been beaten, it has not been removed. The convoy had to fight its way through swarms of German aircraft and a series of U-boat attacks. Two U-boats were sunk by the aircraft of the Royal Navy's Air Arm, aided by a destroyer. There were also some "probables". Not a single merchant ship was lost, but the operation did cost one British destroyer. It is clear that U-boats won't stay beaten for one moment unless substantial naval and air forces are kept in constant vigilance, and convoys to Russia still need powerful escort.

Like Ice Cream

Canadians Have Shown Their Fondness For It By Eating More

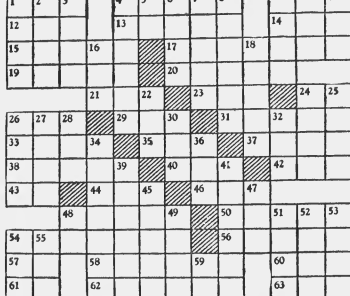

Dripping brows and dripping ice cream cones are a sure sign of summer. And in most parts of the country the ice cream season is already at hand. According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Canadians not only like ice cream but their taste for it has increased through the years.

Figures on the per capita consumption of ice cream in Canada from 1937 to 1942 showed a rise of 42 per cent. during that time. By provinces British Columbia had the highest per capita consumption, followed closely by Ontario and then Nova Scotia. Lowest consumption per person was in Prince Edward Island and Quebec.

SHORT STORY—The Honor Of Yee Shan Yee

By RALPH ZANCHI

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Yee Shan Yee placed the package beneath the counter. With a few deft strokes of the brush he marked the ticket.

"Fo' filday, can do." His soamed yellow face wrinkled in a smile. But the skin over his cheeks felt as stiff as plaster and his heart was heavy. Surely the white man must see the treachery of that smile.

But Stephen Holiday merely pocketed the laundry check and walked out. This, too, hurt. For fifteen years, ever since Stephen, a young law student, had first brought Yee his laundry, he had always stopped to chat with the old man. But now there was going to be an election and Stephen would become District Attorney. He still brought the laundry; but he no longer talked.

Yee returned to his work, his thoughts racing back and forth as rapidly as the steaming iron he piled, when the doorbell tinkled, announcing another customer.

Yee viewed the lady with genuine pleasure. She was slender with frank gray eyes and an easy, friendly manner. He had approved of her from the start.

"Hi, Missy Alice." He counted out her change. "You an' Mist' Stephen mally soon?" Again he forced himself to smile. He had been very happy when his two favorites had told him they were engaged, and had promised them a wedding present. The gift, a beautiful ox-blood bowl a half-thousand years old, was his most cherished possession.

"Oh, yes, I'm so worried," Alice sighed. "The crooked politicians are out to get Stephen. And the closer it is to election the worse their lies are. Steve's behaving like a perfect idiot. He won't marry me until he's cleared himself. A certain gambler is supposed to have given him five thousand dollars, and..."

Five thousand dollars! Yee trembled like a willow in a winter wind. "G'bye, Missy Alice," he said hurriedly. "Velly busy today."

For the first time in his life Yee closed and locked the door of his laundry in the middle of the day. He retired to the back room where he sat long, his twisted face revealing his inward struggle. Finally he rose and took from a closet his old felt hat and an equally ancient coat. In his pocket he put a document adorned with a large seal. Letting himself out the back door he walked toward the heart of the city, a region he seldom visited.

Calm was in his heart. There would be no more days of shame, no more nights of anguish. For Yee Shan Yee, a man who had been honorable, and lost his honor, was about to regain it.

It had happened a month before. Stephen had brought a package of laundry. The day was hot and he carried his coat under his arm. As he went out a small envelope fell from the coat to the floor. Yee called to him, but Stephen was already boarding a bus.

Yee had examined the envelope—it contained ten crisp new five-hundred-dollar bills!

Yee's first impulse had been to take the money to Stephen. He had worked hard all his life and was honest to the core. He had never cheated anyone out of a copper cash in China nor a copper cent in America. But an idea overpowered him.

Stephen was prosperous. The loss of this money would not hurt him much. But in Yee's homeland, where starving millions were fighting desperately for their country, five thousand dollars would accomplish miracles. Yee had sent the savings of twenty years to buy rice for the foodless. He had even sold the cheap phonograph on which he liked to play "The Peach that Bloomed by the Bubbling Well", to remind him of his boyhood in Kwantung Province. And the few dollars it brought were on their way to China, also.

Five thousand dollars! He was unable to resist. That evening he mailed it to an address in San Francisco. It was only when he read the receipt thanking him for his sacrifices that he realized he had dishonored himself and far worse—his country.

Yee Shan Yee did not spare himself now. He told Stephen the facts unemotionally, asked for no pity. "I am a thief," he said sadly. "But I tly makee fix."

He handed Stephen the document he had brought. It was a life insurance policy for five thousand dollars.

"Fo' you. My family in China all dead. Killed by bombs. Tonight I go to my people. Tomorrow you get five thousand dollars!"

"But, Yee, you old mummy," Stephen said, "you've saved my name! That five thousand dollars was marked money that someone slipped in my pocket to frame me. If it had been found when they searched my house, I'd have been ruined. Since you've told me the date you found it I know who put it there."

Yee Shan Yee did not understand all this. But he knew that somehow he had taken dishonorable money and made it honorable. As he shuffled back to his laundry his wrinkled face beamed with a blissful smile. He must buy a suitable wrapper for the ox-blood bowl. For Stephen had said when they parted:

"Now remember, Yee Shan Yee. As the guest of honor it's your duty to arrive early for the wedding."

About Charcoal

Has Many Uses, According To Reports Made By Scientists

Charcoal is a potent shield against poison gas, according to recent statements made by scientists. An essential part of every respirator is the filter filled with specially-prepared charcoal.

Charcoal helps to control and raise the temperature of furnaces used in many of the processes in the development of armored steel. Six hundred years ago when Roger Bacon, the famous scientist made gunpowder, it was charcoal-mixed with saltpeter and sulphur that he used. Explosives are now being produced that makes the force of gunpowder seem like a twenty-fourth of May firecracker. Nevertheless, charcoal is still used in many explosives.

The nature of charcoal varies according to the wood from which it is made. Hard woods such as oak, ash, or chestnut make the type most in demand today, but softer woods such as willow, produce charcoal that is used by the optical industry in Britain for polishing jobs.

The charcoal burners of Britain cut their own timber from the branches of trees and lay it on a circular hearth they have cleared in the forest. In the centre there is an upright pole, afterwards removed, which leaves space for a natural chimney as the wood pile is built up in a conical form to a height of about 10 feet. When the layers of wood have been placed in this manner, the whole pile is covered with earth and ashes from a previous hearth so that when the wood is set on fire there is only a limited supply of air to help it burn.

When the charcoal burner has finished his work, and taken the charcoal to market it has to be prepared for the buyer by grading it into sizes from lumps of about two inches to dust that will pass through screens of 120 holes to an inch.

The dust, made into bricks, is used in Britain's hospitals for portable enclosed stoves so that life is delivered hot to patients. Such is the versatility of charcoal in wartime service!

Visual Education

Four New Films On Canada For The Schools

Four new films about Canada, produced by the Erpi film company, have been added to the audio-visual aids library and will be available to Saskatchewan schools at the beginning of the fall term, officials of the department of education announced recently. The films deal with the four different sections of Canada under the titles, "Pacific Province," "Prairie Provinces," "Industrial Canada," and "Maritime Provinces." The films give a "bird's eye view" of the relative importance of various Canadian industries.

In addition to the Erpi films several new films from the National Film Board of Canada have been placed in the audio-visual aids library. They include films dealing with the Niagara Peninsula, Prince Edward Island, uses of glass in the modern world, forestry, co-operation and the life of the North American Indians.

One-third of the area of the United States is owned by the government.

Job Is Dangerous

Modern War Correspondent Takes Same Risk As Soldier

Dave Boone, in the New York Sun, describes the modern war correspondent like this:

What a difference there is between a war correspondent in this war and in the old days. Now he gets into more tough spots than most of the soldiers got into in the early wars.

When you spoke of a war correspondent years ago you thought of a carefully groomed, highly polished, glamor gent with a tent pretty well behind the front who was a reasonably safe insurance risk.

Today he's just another target for everything that's being thrown. He's a Commando with a typewriter, a Ranger with pad and pencil. He gets everything a 1-A gets, except kitchen police.

The modern war correspondents are no glamor boys with cozy jobs. They're rough-and-tumble, hard-boiled two-fisted fellows who get so hard that bullets bounce off their hides.

Has Proved Success

Children's Clothing Exchange In England To Be Continued

Wartime necessity in England has developed a scheme that will be maintained after the war to aid the mothers of large families. It is the children's clothing exchange operated by Women's Volunteer services where mothers of children who outgrow their clothes before they are worn out may trade them for other clothing. The plan has worked so successfully that requests are made to continue the scheme after the war.

SALVAGE

Waste paper is still Canada's foremost salvage need. 20,000 tons a month are required. The short supply of waste paper is holding up orders for vital paper products needed in the war effort. Newspaper wrappings, bags, cardboard, old magazines, corrugated boxes are most vitally needed.

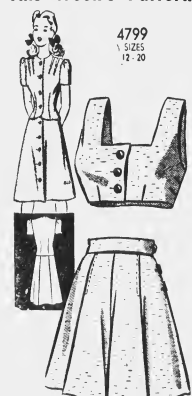

The Housefly

Is One Of The Greatest Enemies Of Public Health

The common housefly is one of the greatest enemies of public health. It is well-known that dysentery, infantile diarrhea, typhoid, and tuberculosis have been carried by flies and it has been demonstrated that flies may be the possible spreaders of infantile paralysis. They breed in filth, they feed on filth, and pass directly from the foulest of filth to human food, carrying bacteria and particles of decomposing matter on their hairy bodies and sticky feet and mouths. Yet they are tolerated in some homes and in some shops offering human food and fruit for sale.

The most effective method of combating the housefly is to destroy its breeding places. This is best done through community action involving the proper care and disposal of manure, garbage and other waste materials. A leaflet outlining the methods to employ may be obtained free of charge from the Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. It is especially important to protect foodstuffs from contamination by flies. Doors and windows should be properly screened and flies that invade the home in spite of this should be promptly killed.

Boys Ask Rescued Airmen If They Had Any Chewing Gum

A few days ago, after a rather hectic flight over enemy territory, the crew of a Fortress had to leave their aircraft in the "drink". They made their way ashore in their dinghy, which was far from being a pleasant operation.

As they walked on to the promenade at a South Coast town they were besieged by a host of youngsters who, crowding round, asked the somewhat tired airmen, "Have you any chewing gum, mister?"—Brighton Evening Argus.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS—

The sergeant gardener at Currie Barracks in Calgary was hosing the lilacs bushes outside of the officer's quarters recently. Playfully, he threatened to "drown" the next CWAC who dared to appear in the doorway. The threat was hardly off his lips when a khaki skirt appeared on the steps. As good as his word, the sergeant turned his hose with full vent on the offender. His consternation knew no bounds when he suddenly noticed a crown on the soaked scalp of the CWAC and recognized Major Doris Weston, Officer Commanding 113 Depot Company. He apologized profusely. "Oh, that's all right," the O.C. replied brightly. "I would've done the same thing myself."

G. I. BID—

Proof that a soldier is really on duty 24 hours a day was furnished recently by Capt. Patricia Hamel, Officer Commanding a C.W.A.C. unit in Regina, Sask. In the midst of an engrossing bridge game, the officer pondered over her cards, drummed on the table, and finally got ready to bid. "One corporal," she said.

Personality

"Miss you," is the theme song of Corporal Dorothy Sage of Saskatoon, Sask., and the object of her affection is a mobile recruiting unit, the "Victory Entertainers." As C.W.A.C. recruiting N.C.O. she travelled through the province with the soldiers, gradually adding the duties of "chief cook and bottle-washer" to her own work. Now the troupe is disbanded. Its members have laid aside their musical instruments for the weapons of war. "Who'd darn their socks and sew their buttons?" Dorothy asks mournfully, doubtful that the sergeant major will be a mother to the boys.

SPORT—

A good athlete doesn't need to pick her spot or sport as the case may be. L-Cpl. Margaret Young of Kelowna, Man., gave support to this theory at a recent sports program at Fort Garry, Man. Showing all-round ability, Margaret won the 75 yard dash, the high jump, ball throw and running broad jump. To top it all, she aided her team in winning the 60 yard shuttle race.

JAMAICA CWACS

"Friends and pals forever," sums it up for Beverly Moyston and Everell Jones, who left their homes in Jamaica, last January to enlist in the C.W.A.C. Inseparable in school and in business they saved and planned together until they were ready for the 3,000-mile trip to Toronto, Ont. The girls graduated from high school together and were both employed as stenographers for the Jamaican government prior to their enlistment. They both plan post war study in a Canadian university before returning to Jamaica. Medical social work is the main interest of Pte. Moyston while Pte. Jones is hoping for a course in business law.

In Memoriam

BEAT—In Loving Memory of my dear husband, Ernest Beat, who passed away on July 2, 1942. "Love's greatest gift—Remembrance."

Ever remembered by his loving wife.

BEAT—In Loving Memory of our dear father and grandfather, Ernest Beat, who passed away on July 2, 1942.

If we could have clasped his dying hand
And bade the last farewell,
It would not of been so hard to part.

With one we loved so well,
Ever remembered by his daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren.

BEAT—In Loving Memory of our dear brother, Ernest Beat, who passed away on July 2, 1942. "Memories sweetly linger
As time goes on its way."
Ever remembered by his sisters, Hilda, Bessie and Mary.
